Indictments In Steel Trace Back to JFK

Price-Fixing Rap Levied by Jury Against 8 Firms

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight steel companies—including U.S. Steel, the industry's largest—have been indicted by a federal grand jury on antitrust charges.

They are accused of conspiring to fix prices in the $3.6 billion carbon steel business. Two steel company executives also were named in the indictment, made public Tuesday.

The indictment traces to the clash between major steel companies and the late President John F. Kennedy in April 1962. When the companies posted an across-the-board increase of $6 a ton, Kennedy angrily denounced the move as inflationary and the companies rescinded the increase.

After the clash, the Justice Department—headed then and now by the late President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—started a grand jury investigation of the steel industry's pricing methods. The original grand jury investigation died out. But the job was taken over last October by a new grand jury—the one that reported the indictment yesterday.

Inland and Kaiser—only major steel firms that opposed the 1962 price hike—were not named in the indictment. The grand jury, however, had subpoenaed their records.

Conviction could bring the eight defendant firms fines up to $50,000 each. The two indicted executives, if convicted, could be sentenced to jail for one year and fined $50,000 each.

Sheet steel—the product covered in the indictment—is used in making about one-third of all finished steel mill products. The alleged price-fixing, the government charges, increased prices to consumers for such items as auto bodies, washing machines, kitchen cabinets, refrigerators, office furniture and

Bomb Scare Delays Princess' Airliner

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—A bomb scare delayed the departure for Paris today of Princess Irene, who has virtually broken with her country because of her love for a pretender to the Spanish throne.

An anonymous caller telephoned KLM, the Royal Dutch Airline, that "you should investigate the plane" that the princess, second daughter of Queen Juliana, and Prince Bernhard, was taking to join her fiancé, Prince Carlos de Bourbon Parma.

Another Racial Crisis Faces Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland faced its second racial crisis in less than three months today in the wake of a civil rights demonstration that left a Presbyterian minister dead and touched off an all-night wave of rioting and violence.

Civil rights leaders, whose demonstration Tuesday halted construction at an East Side school site, scheduled a noon demonstration at the Board of Education's downtown office building.

The Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, 27-year-old white minister, was crushed to death under a bulldozer during the demonstration at the school site in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Fifteen other persons, 10 of them policemen, were injured. Car and store windows were smashed. Police arrested 26 persons, including four ju-

A BRIEF MOMENT — Crowds wait outside the 7th Reg. Army in New York for the chance to view the body of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Special Train Takes Body Of MacArthur to Capital

NEW YORK (AP)—Silent thousands of mourning Americans lined rain-swept streets of New York today in respectful farewell to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

A special train took the general's simple GI coffin from the mourning city, where he had lived in retirement, to Washington for funeral honors due one of the nation's great military men.

Wet flags hung limply at half staff as a horse-drawn caisson bore him through New York. MacArthur, 84, died Sunday in Washington but his body was returned here for the tribute of his adopted city.

The cortege passed knots of silent men and women waiting in rain. In Times Square, thousands stood four or five deep on sidewalks, many rendering military salutes or holding hats to hearts.

Some 20,000 persons gathered at the Pennsylvania Station for the final departure of the general from New York, his home since 1951.

Through the streets of Manhattan 13 years ago this month the greatest ticker-tape wel come the city had ever given MacArthur rode in triumph to a returning hero. About 7.5 million people cheered him then.

But today, the cheers had turned to whispers, and the smiles to tears.

Muffled drums, sounding the funeral beat so familiar to American ears since the funeral of President John F. Kennedy set the pace of the procession from the 7th Regiment Armory to Pennsylvania Station and the special train waiting to take the body to Washington. MacArthur will lie in state in the Capitol rotunda, as Kennedy did.

Eight pallbearers carried the steel coffin from the Armory at Park Avenue and 66th Street and placed it on the caisson while the U.S. Military Academy band played Ruffles and Flourishes, and "The General's March."

Cadet Harold Paul Kindelberger of El Paso, Tex., a regimental commander at West Point, carried MacArthur's personal five-star flag.

Nearly stood the general's 64-year-old widow and his son, Arthur, 26.

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, former Philippine ambassador to the United States and long-time friend of MacArthur, was among the dignitaries present.

Behind the caisson a private on foot led Shorty, a caparisoned horse. The stirrups of the empty saddle were reversed in the Army's traditional signal of the death of a hero.

U.S. Presses Allies for New Anti-Red Drive

Communist Moves In Asian, Latin Areas Are Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is determined pressing its divided European allies to provide more backing and support for its fight against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia and Latin America.

The diplomatic strategy being followed by the Johnson administration on this and other disputed issues within the alliance is to bypass countries like France or Britain on questions where major disagreements exist and to form a united front with all the countries which are willing to cooperate.

These points of U.S. policy and strategy toward the North Atlantic Treaty Organization emerged clearly from a speech delivered to the Overseas Press Club in New York Tuesday night by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk also sharply reminded the European allies who have tended to pull apart among themselves and from the United States as cold war tensions eased, that "massive Soviet ground and nuclear forces are still arrayed against Europe."

The Soviet Union, in fact, has "many more missiles" aimed at Western Europe than at the United States, he said. In these circumstances, he declared, "it would be foolhardy to dismantle the military strength of NATO."

Rusk did not give missile figures but a highly authoritative estimate puts the total of Soviet intermediate and medium-range ballistic missiles at 800, most or all of which are believed to be targeted on European objectives.

Kansas City Bans Racial Segregation

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—In an amazing surge of votes but by slightly less than 1 per cent, Kansas City voters affirmed Tuesday an expansion of an ordinance forbidding racial discrimination in establishments which trade with the public.

The unofficial count was 45,476 to 43,733—a margin of 1,743 in a total vote of 89,209. This represented 42 per cent of the registered voters.

Only once before, in 1950 on a school bond issue, have so many turned out in a special election. Only 68,196 voted last December after a strident campaign which led to adoption of a municipal tax on earnings.

Robert P. Lyons, cochairman of the People for Public Accommodations, said, "I think it is significant that our citizens voted in greater numbers on a matter of human rights than on something that affected their pocketbooks."

The new ordinance provisions prohibit racial discrimination in taverns, amusement places, recreational facilities, meeting halls, stores, transportation facilities, hospitals and other businesses open to the public.

Excluded were barber shops, beauty parlors, other places offering personal services, rooming and boarding houses and rented apartments.

U.S. Fire Alarm Confuses Greek

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The fire alarm boxes in the United States just aren't like those in Greece — they don't dispense wicks, flints and matches.

That seemed to be the gist of the story told Tuesday to Municipal Court Judge Frank G. Wetzel by Yannoulis Vasiloss, a Greek exchange student at the University of Cincinnati.

He was brought into court on a charge of turning in a false fire alarm.

Vasiloss told Judge Wetzel that in Athens wicks, flints and matches are provided in fire alarm boxes. He needed a match to light his pipe so when he saw the fire alarm box he pulled the lever.

City Law Sets Requirements For Licensing Junk Yards

Licensing of junk yards in Circleville will now be mandatory.

An ordinance to this effect was passed last night by City Council. The law, designed as a measure to improve the city's appearance, was approved on its second reading.

The legislation was introduced Mar. 17 and held to first reading. Earlier indications were that the ordinance would go the full three readings before action was taken. A measure of similar scope was defeated by the solons in January of 1963.

However, the licensing regulation received quick action on a suspension of rules vote last night. The only dissenting nod was cast by solon Boyd Horn who said some points of the ordinance are not to his liking.

COUNCILMEN found renewed strength in introducing and promoting the measure after the last session of the Ohio Legislature enacted a state law of similar intention. The local regulation, with appropriate notations, is a rephrasing of the one adopted by the state.

John Jenkins, author of the measure here, said he had heard no adverse comment on the ordinance since its introduction last month. The measure was written for the purpose of benefitting the community, he added.

An important aspect of the ordinance pertains to erection of fences six feet in height around junk yards that are not properly obscured by natural objects. Owners without these barriers will have six months to erect them.

The ordinance calls for a license fee of $25, with expiration set as the first day of January following the date of issue. A cost of $10 will be required for each yearly renewal.

Persons operating yards prior to the effective date of the law will be entitled to obtain a license or appropriate renewal upon payment of required fees.

The ordinance, on file in the Council clerk's office, contains a definitions section which describes junk yards falling under authority of the measure. Proper maintenance of fences, periodical inspections and the imposing of fines for violations also are explained.

IN OTHER legislative action, the lawmakers passed an ordinance authorizing the Circleville Board of Public Utilities to enter into a contract for installation of a new water main.

Glenn Is Popular Among Neighbors

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Four young girls in the Timber Cove area where most of the Mercury astronauts live showed Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. Tuesday that he is still a popular fellow around the neighborhood.

The girls canvassed the area to raise funds for a potted plant for Glenn when he came home here from a hospital to recuperate from a head injury.

They collected $56 quickly so they bought an eight-foot yucca tree, a rain tree and a purple sage in addition to the potted plant. A neighbor said Glenn was so choked up he could hardly talk.

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP)—United Mine Workers officials were scheduled to meet with leaders of dissident miners again today in an effort to end a series of wildcat strikes.

The district encompasses approximately 45 mines and 5,000 employees in the Eastern Ohio-Northern West Virginia Pan-handle area.

Carriers Set Work Rules

Union Spokesman Predicts Walkout

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads said today they will put into effect Friday new work rules and labor leaders predicted a nationwide tieup of rail transportation.

But President Johnson directed Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to set up a labor-management conference tonight in an effort to avert the walkout.

J.E. Wolfe, chairman of the national railway labor conference, said in Washington that the rules changes, center of a five-year controversy, were being enforced in response to a strike begun early today by four operating unions against the Illinois Central Railroad.

Informed of the announcement A. F. Zimmerman, spokesman for the unions, said, "This would amount to a national lockout and we have only one defense — to cease working."

"The employees won't work under these rules."

Zimmerman is assistant grand chief engineer (vice president) of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He said he was speaking for his union and the three other labor organizations of on-train personnel: The Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

If the Illinois Central Railroad obtains an injunction halting the surprise strike that tied up that 14-state railroad today, Zimmerman said, the unions will comply with it.

He said he hopes Congress gets into the dispute and "takes a long, hard look at the vest-

Rights Bill Nears Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Important civil rights bill test votes appeared today to be within reach at last, as the marathon Senate debate entered its 25th day.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen unveiled on Tuesday the general nature but few details of amendments he will offer to the bill's equal employment opportunity provisions. He said he would ask his GOP colleagues at a conference Thursday to support them.

Dirksen said they involved about 40 changes, many just "technical," and only eight or nine of major importance.

Declaring they are intended neither to "water down nor emasculate" the bill, Dirksen announced plans to call up some of the amendments next week for Senate consideration.

Plane Skips Into Swamp

NEW YORK (AP)—A jet airliner carrying 136 passengers and a crew of nine bounced into a swamp and cracked open while trying to land at John F. Kennedy International Airport Tuesday night.

At least 40 persons were treated for injuries ranging from cuts, bruises and hysteria to dislocated and broken bones. Police said 15 of the more seriously injured were taken to hospitals. One male passenger was treated for a heart attack.

The Boeing 707, a Pan American World Airways flight from San Juan, P.R., was landing in light fog when it bounced off the end of a runway and plowed into a marshy field.

There was no fire. Foam was spread to reduce that possibility.

for a salary increase for meter officer Nolan Dunkle which was granted earlier by Council.

An ordinance calling for renewal of a contract with the Burgess & Niple firm of Columbus for professional engineering service was held to first reading. This was done to allow new councilmen an opportunity to study the contract.

Chamber Studies Theater Proposal

Do the people of this community want an indoor theater in Circleville?

This was the question directed to the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors yesterday afternoon by Harry J. Clifton. He said he would be willing to try to open his old Cliftona building on Pinckney St., providing enough public interest and support is shown.

Clifton indicated that it would require in the neighborhood of $20,000 to remodel the old building and get it in shape for opening. He said his proposal would be based on a plan to sell advance book tickets as a means of raising about half of this investment.

The Chamber officials, taking no specific action on the proposal, referred it to a committee for study. This panel is scheduled to report back to the Chamber within the next few days.

CLIFTON said money derived from the advance ticket sales would be set up in a special bank account that would be controlled by a party other than himself.

Couple Is Handed Probation On Juvenile Morals Charge

A young married couple today pleaded guilty in Pickaway County Juvenile Court to delinquency charges involving the morals of several teen-agers.

Lester Betts and his 17-year-old wife were granted probationary sentences by Judge Guy Cline. Recommendations for this ruling were made by Harry Margulis, the couple's attorney, Prosecuting Attorney Robert H. Huffer and Mrs. Jessica Wood, juvenile officer.

Charges were filed recently against the couple, along with three other adults and 10 local juveniles, following an extensive investigation of promiscuous activities at an apartment on N. Court Street that was occupied by the Betts couple.

Handling the investigation for Circleville Police were Patrolman Wesley Barton and Larry Pontious.

RUMORS concerning the apartment activities are widespread, court officials said. "Most are based on no fact whatever."

Statements concerning the alleged conduct at the apartment were taken from several teen-agers by the investigating officers. However, delinquency charges were filed against only 10.

Three juvenile girls, whose ages are 14, 15 and 16, were placed on three years probation each last Friday by Judge Cline. Court officials added that these cases were not directly connected with the apartment. But the investigation produced evidence that led to the delinquency charges, they said. Juvenile court officials also stated that contrary to widespread rumors, no pregnancies or health problems have resulted in the conduct of juveniles who frequented the apartment.

In a signed confession submitted to the court, the 17-year-old married woman admitted having relations with a John Redman at the apartment, but denied permitting teen-agers to watch. Her confession also stated that a teen-age girl had "cut her wrist" with a razor blade following an argument with her boy friend. The wound reportedly was not serious.

Police have issued warrants for the arrest of Danny Rutter, another adult who will face charges in juvenile court. He was charged as a result of the apartment investigation.

Hearing dates have not yet been set down for the remainder of both the juveniles and adults involved in the escapade.

Solons Again View Block In Sewer Job

Thorny problems surrounding Circleville's Sanitary Sewer District No. 2 touched off prolonged discussion at last night's Council session.

The sewer job currently is at a standstill due to court litigation. Suits filed against the project currently are in the hands of Highland County's Common Pleas Court Judge. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins said no decisions had been voiced as of last night.

This period of no progress forced Council to appropriate $4,268.65 for payment of interest due on the city's note issued for construction of the sewer district. It was pointed out that the current court entanglement is costing the city about $11 per day.

Solicitor Kenneth Robbins described the problem as being one in which the need for the proposed sewer district has been agreed upon by residents concerned — while the method for paying for it has not been resolved.

Approximately 78 property owners have lodged protests against assessment costs. Ensuing law suits brought continuation of the project to a halt. Robbins advised Council that an alternative step to take would be to name a new equalizing board to finalize assessments.

$80,000 Judgment Granted in Lawsuit

A personal injury damages suit in Franklin County Common Pleas Court netted $80,000 to plaintiffs of the suit represented locally by Robert H. Huffer and Lemuel Weldon, Circleville attorneys.

Har. on Davis, Perry Twp., and Bob Boysel, Mt. Sterling, received the $80,000 judgment last week from Matlack Inc., a trucking firm, as defendants of the lawsuit.

The suit was filed as the result of personal injuries sustained by the plaintiffs in a head-on collision on Route 62 in Madison County. A driver employee of Matlack Inc. was operating the truck involved in the accident.

Wood ibises which have a five-foot wing span, have been clocked in flight at 35 miles per hour.

Lancaster AA Group Slates Meeting Here

The Lancaster chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous has scheduled a meeting 8 p. m. Tuesday at the St. Phillips Episcopal Church Parish House, 129 W. Mound St.

A spokesman for the group stated they hoped to establish an AA chapter in Circleville.

He pointed out that Alcoholics Anonymous is a fellowship of men and women who share their experiences, strength and hope with each other that they might solve their common problem and help others to recover from alcoholism.

"The only requirement is an honest desire to stop drinking," he stated. There are no dues or fees. It is not allied with any sect, religious denomination, political organization or institution according to the spokesman.

He emphasized that anyone who had a drinking problem was welcome to attend the meeting.

General Fund Low; Solons Seek Advance

A low balance in the city's general fund prompted Circleville Council last night to adopt a resolution requesting an advance of funds to meet current expenses.

Finance committee chairman Robert Hedges reported the general fund balance as of yesterday amounted to $3,302.97. Actual and estimated general expenses for April were listed at $14,868.65.

Hedges said this means the city would be faced with a deficit balance of $11,565.68 unless the advance of $15,000 in real estate taxes is made by the county auditor. The finance chairman said the normal distribution of tax money for this period from the county is late.

It was also pointed out that normal city utility bills for April, amounting to about $2,000, remain to be paid.

SOME financial help may be forthcoming due to unanticipated balances in two funds at the end of last year. The balances were disclosed this week during a meeting of the Pickaway County Budget Commission.

Actual balances in excess of earlier estimated figures amounted to $9,547 in the general fund and $9,279 in the street construction fund.

Budget Commission members approved a motion to certify these amounts to the respective funds. Present for the session were Treasurer Robert Wood and Marvin Rhoades, auditor.

Fatal Lima Fight Probed

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Patrol and other state agencies were continuing their investigation today into the death of a Lima State Hospital inmate who died of injuries received in a fight at the institution.

Martin Wilson, 32, committed from Franklin County in the October 1960 holdup slaying of a Columbus cab driver—John R. Doersam, 38, — died Monday night in a fight at the hospital Saturday night.

Wilson was committed originally for a 30-day observation period at the hospital, and later was judged criminally insane.

Dr. William Noble, Allen County coroner, said Wilson died from a blow on the head. The fight, involving three inmates, took place in a maximum-security ward at the hospital.

Wolfe's statement said: "The operating unions' assault on the public, launched without warning in the dark of night against the Illinois Central and its customers, is typical of the unions' continued irresponsibility in the featherbedding dispute. As neither the public nor the industry can tolerate this guerrilla warfare, the railroads plan to post their revised rules, as affirmed by the U.S. Supreme Court, at 12:01 a.m. Friday, April 10."

The dispute centers around what the railroads call "featherbedding" — work rules that rail officials contend cost them $600 million annually. A similar strike was threatened last summer, but Congress passed the first compulsory arbitration law in the nation's history and created a special arbitration panel directed to solve two central issues in the dispute — whether firemen are needed on freight and yard engines and the makeup of train crews.

The panel said the railroads could eliminate gradually up to 80 per cent of firemen on diesel engines in freight and yard service, and set up procedures for local, binding arbitration on the question of makeup of train crews.

The unions appealed this award to the courts, but the railroads were upheld last March 4 unanimously by the Supreme Court.

(Continued from Page One) Russians have an estimated 100-plus intercontinental missiles, and up to 100 seaborne missiles. The United States has about 670 ICBM's in place and 192 seaborne Polaris.

Rusk said that on the military side NATO should increase its non-nuclear capacity for fighting limited wars. That is a frequently stated U.S. objective which the European allies usually ignore. Europe should also join in forming a strategic nuclear force, he said.

He reported the U.S. government and some other allies have in fact made "substantial and encouraging progress" in working out the problems involved in forming a seaborne fleet of 200 Polaris missiles. France has rejected this whole project and the British government is cooperating reluctantly. However, Britain is working with the other interested allies in a test-ship project.

What is needed beyond shoring up the military defenses, Rusk said, are "new patterns of collective action," especially for dealing with Communist expansion campaigns in Asia, Latin America and Africa.

"I have in mind," he said, "especially such countries as Laos and South Viet Nam, which are targets of aggression by Hanoi, with the support of the Chinese Communists, and Cuba, which is engaged in the export of arms, subversive agents, and guerrilla leaders to other Latin-American nations. We believe that the North Atlantic nations should recognize a common interest in seeing that these aggressions are brought to an end."

His license was suspended for one year. Frank Anderson, a passenger in the car, was fined $25 and costs for intoxication.

Another....

A Methodist minister, the Rev. Robert W. Kelley of Mount Pleasant Church, said he had talked with the Rev. Mr. Klunder at a breakfast and had argued against civil disobedience in civil rights struggles. He quoted the slender, crew-cut Presbyterian minister as saying:

"The hour has come when one must disobey and risk one's life in the prospect."

The Rev. Mr. Klunder's widow Joanne, said her husband "died doing what he believed in, what we both believed in. He died hoping that what he was doing might bring love of all people for each other."

He was one of about 150 demonstrators and spectators on the scene when the Lakeview demonstration began. Police were posted along Lakeview Road to keep demonstrators out of the construction site, but four persons threw themselves under the wheels of a cement truck entering the project. Police pulled them out and carted them away.

The minister joined a group that raced through back yards to get around police lines and enter near the rear of the project.

The bulldozer driver, John White, 33, of Mentor, told police he saw three people "throw themselves down in front of me. There were two girls and a man."

"I kept my shovel up because I didn't want to hit anybody with it," White said. "The shovel was hanging over those people so I backed up. I didn't know another man was lying behind me."

"I backed up all the way over a 1/2 mile, and that was the first I knew I had run over anybody." The tread of the bulldozer passed over the minister's shoulders.

Police cleared White of responsibility in the death.

GOP-PANAMA: A Republican Citizens Council headed by Milton S. Eisenhower, has urged U.S.-Panamanian agreement on a "wholly new treaty" within 25 years for a second, sea-level canal.

the United States and Panama should agree on a number of interim reforms helpful to both sides.

These would involve revising the present treaty, raising canal tolls by perhaps 30 per cent and increasing Panama's yearly canal receipts to $15 million from $1.9 million.

Solons Accept Housing Plan In Northend

A resolution accepting the portion of a plat that lies within the northern city limits was adopted last night by Circleville Council.

The plat pertains to the Meadowview Addition as subdivided by Gorsuch Homes, Inc. Part of the proposed addition is within the confines of Circleville and part in Circleville Twp.

Council accepted the plat after being informed the proposal had been approved by the local Planning and Zoning Commission. Passage came on a 6-1 vote, with Councilman Boyd Horn reflecting the lone negative stand.

The portion within the city limits contains 20 lots. Twenty more are in Circleville Twp.

THE PLAT was introduced by Kenneth M. Smith, vice president of the Gorsuch firm. Ludwig Haecker, representing the Planning and Zoning body, said the housing proposal met city specifications, including lot sizes.

Haecker added that sanitary sewers have already been installed in the area. Smith indicated that curbs and gutters and a black top street with a 50-foot right-of-way will be installed. The street will be named Meadow Drive.

Smith said the general feeling is that the section outside of the city eventually could be considered for annexation.

With a number of international conferences of one sort or another underway in various parts of the world, not much attention was aroused by one held by the International Telecommunications Union in Rome. But results of that meeting could affect the daily lives of just about everyone within hearing distance of one of the 160 million telephones on this globe.

Sixty-eight member telephone companies agreed at the meeting to work toward long-distance digit dialing anywhere in the world. When they said anywhere, they weren't joking. The tiny island of Niue in the South Pacific, with 102 telephones, has been assigned long distance code 688.

Continent-to-continent direct dialing is much closer to reality than one might suppose. Not only have numerical codes been assigned to each participating country, but preliminary work is underway to translate the myriad of dialing systems in use throughout the world into a workable system.

A New Zealand telephone dial, for instance, is numbered in reverse of the U. S. dial, with nine at the top. Middle East telephones have no numbers at all. They use Persian and Arabic symbols.

In the U. S., the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is handling arrange-

Burl Ives Is Melting Away

NEW YORK (AP)—Burl Ives, who used to be as wide as a forest, has slimmed down so much that now he can hide behind a single full-grown redwood tree.

"I've lost 75 pounds in the last four months, and I expect to drop another 75 pounds by the end of the year," said the big genial actor and folk singer.

After completing his latest film, a fantasy in which he plays a fat Arabian nights genie, Burl decided to peel off some of his 300-plus poundage. He went to Duke University in North Carolina to try its famous rice diet treatment.

According to Ives, the fat melted from him magically.

"For 10 or 15 years I was on a high protein diet—and I kept gaining weight," he said.

"I can walk 10 miles a day now and never get tired. Before that I'd puff like a steam engine when I went a hundred yards."

"I used to have hot pipes"—his term for stomach upsets—"and colds before I went on this diet. Since then I haven't had hot pipes or a cold," Ives said.

"I used to have to put down a pound of steak before I went to make a recording. Now I can eat a few grains of boiled rice and sing like a bird."

Ives started plucking out tunes on a guitar as a 5-year-old farmboy. Becoming bored on a summer day during his junior year in college, he walked out of an English class on a sudden impulse to see the world. All he took along was his guitar and 15 cents in cash.

In the years since then Burl has appeared in seven Broadway plays, given hundreds of concerts, recorded 32 albums of songs, made 15 films and written four books.

He is one of the most famous "pack rats" in show business. His nine-room, old-fashioned apartment on the upper West Side here is crowded with souvenirs of his travels—everything from battleship flags to African battle spears.

"I think I'm happier now than I've ever been—and I'm 54. When I was younger I didn't have enough sense to be happy," Ives said.

"I recommend nothing to anybody, but life is pretty complicated and I think it helps to try to simplify it. That's what I did with my food problem by going on the rice diet."

"I do as I always have: I play life by ear, and live it day by day."

"If something comes along and I want to do it, I do it. If not, I go sailing and spit in the water."

"What keeps us from joy is mostly ourselves. We have too many cobwebs in our minds."

"At this point in my life my feeling is to follow my instincts, to move as things happen rather than according to plan or to achieve any set goal."

"I have found that you have to move pretty much as life presents situations to you. I'm pretty happy-go-lucky. I'm not a worrier."

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are salting away a record amount in various types of savings. They are seeing the market value of some forms of their past savings increase markedly.

But personal debts also are soaring. Yet their total savings after subtraction of the record debts is riding around the trillion-dollar mark.

Much of this thousand billion dollars of savings, however, is not liquid—that is, it isn't readily available to pay debts or meet emergencies.

Personal debts are rising at a faster rate now than are liquid savings. This causes some fretting about what might happen if the anticipated business boom proved to be short-lived. Would falling personal income make some debt loads unbearable?

Installment debt jumped in February by the greatest amount in more than four years. Many consumers are supposed to have reasoned they could take on more payments because of the fore-shadowed windfall of the cut in their federal income taxes. The rise in take home pay didn't show up until March. And this may have encouraged still others to increase their installment debt.

On-the-cuff credit rose by $57.6 million in February to a total of $56.5 billion. This was $5.7 billion higher than February 1963. The noninstallment type of credit—single-payment loans, charge accounts, service credit—rose by $146 million to $15.2 billion. So the total of all forms of consumer debt outstanding came to $68.8 billion.

Finance companies point out that defaults on monthly payments hold at the same relatively small percentage figure. From this they argue that rising personal incomes make Americans able to take on more debt comfortably.

Mortgage debt is the largest item of all, and it has been moving up fairly steadily for years, in good times or bad. The total is now over $175 billion. Some regions have reported increasing defaults and foreclosures. But lenders say the over-all tone is still good.

Stock market credit also has been rising, up about $2 billion in 1963. If the return of the public to the stock market picks up any speed, this form of debt also should rise more this year.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JOHN STRALEY tells of a couple who attended a masquerade party at their country club. After dinner, the wife developed a headache, and decided to go home. Her husband was so obviously having a high old time that she gave him a special dispensation to stay until the festivities were over.

At home, she recovered so rapidly that she decided to go back to the party, but sneakily put on another costume—her notion being that she might discover how her husband was comporting himself.

Back at the masquerade, she saw him sitting alone behind some potted palms. She disguised her voice and asked him if he'd like to dance. One thing led to another, and what with a full moon shining overhead, the two soon found themselves romancing on the porch. Finally she disentangled herself, and returned home to await her erring spouse.

When he finally came home he complained that his feet were sore from dancing. "You mean you never left the dance floor?" she asked sharply. "Only toward the very end of the evening," recalled Hubby. "Our old club bartender complained that he never got in on the fun, so I loaned him my costume and took his place behind the bar."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am a professional musician in my late sixties. After several years of rest, I am resuming the practice of the piano. I work hard at it for two hours at a time at great speed. I find my finger joints aching occasionally. Is it safe to play the piano? Could it possibly bring out any arthritis that may be lying dormant?

Mrs. S. K. O'N., Massachusetts

Dear Mrs. O'N.: It is gratifying to hear of your musical interest and your devotion to the piano. Continued enthusiasm for any pursuit—music, painting, literature or whatever—in any age group sparks the inner psychological security and peace so important to personal happiness.

The aching of your finger joints may be caused by too rigorous piano exercises after a prolonged period of inactivity. The muscles of the hands must slowly be retrained for exercise, as would the legs of a tennis player after a winter of idleness.

Playing the piano as actively as you do will not necessarily induce or activate an arthritic condition. It would be wise, however, for you to be examined clinically and perhaps by X-ray to determine if any arthritis is present.

At your age, there probably will be found some unimportant structural changes of the joints. These should not be considered unusual. Nor should they deprive you of the joys you apparently reap from your special accomplishment.

There is much benefit to be attained from the assurance of your physician about your general health and the condition of your talented fingers. Arthur Rubenstein, at 75, has just completed an arduous Beethoven cycle that would do justice to men and women half his age.

I have read with interest your column on the great accomplishments of science and medicine that give longer life to people today. I am one of those now living longer because of them. However, I do not appreciate my longer life because I have been retired from work and now must be supported by my children or "go on relief."

Latest Contagion

When isolated instances tend to create a pattern, the temptation is to see a conspiracy at work. But the pattern may not be the result of a conspiracy; it may merely indicate the presence of a contagion.

The latest contagion, which threatens to have its adverse effects on U. S. foreign and military policy, is to see in dedication to the safety of the nation nothing more than a form of madness. Item: the popularity of the allegedly funny picture about the atom bomb, "Dr. Strangelove". Item: the enormous sales of the novel about push-button-war-gone-wrong "Fail-Safe". Item: the acclaim for that bit of fiction-made-into-movie, "Seven Days in May", which is about a military subversion of U. S. democracy. Item: Stanford University Professor Arnold Rogow's recent attempt to explain the career of James Forrestal, our first Secretary of Defense, in terms of Freudian fixations.

The common denominator of this sort of literary and dramatic out-put is a resentment, whether open or latent, of anybody and every-body who has tried to rise a few degrees above self-interest in the period of the Cold War. The nuclear bomb, according to this particular school of thinking, has been pushed not to provide an umbrella of safety for the numerically inferior West but merely as a form of grim gamesmanship that is of career advantage to psychopathic generals and scientists. Tragically, the contagion of this sort of thinking coincides with the drive to put over the view that Communism is changing its spots, at least insofar as Europe, Africa and South America are concerned. A compound contagion, so to speak. Communism may indeed change its spots, as is prophesied, but if it does, it will be because of our strength, not our weakness.

The Rogow biography of James Forrestal, which is being currently advertised with a picture of an almost lifeless man with haunted eyes, is probably the most dangerous example of the current contagion, for, unlike the "Fail-Safe"-type novels and movies, it purports to take off from hard, indisputable fact. What Professor Rogow does is to try to prove a connection between certain events of James Forrestal's childhood and early career in business and his later insistence, voiced at the time of Yalta, that Soviet Russia might become the enemy of the West after Fascism and Japanese imperialism had been liquidated. The implication is that a feeling of inferiority acquired in his youth created a necessity for Forrestal to turn Russia into a bogey man. So, with Forrestal's help, we got the bogey man.

This curious attempt to explain the West's reaction to the Cold War in terms of mental illness is in itself a sick manifestation. Suppose that Forrestal did have a harsh childhood (though Rogow hardly proves the point). Suppose that he did strive to make a good club at Princeton, and later sought to succeed in Wall Street. Suppose tough mother and an immigrant family father to produce a Forrestal, we need more tough mothers and immigrant family fathers. The next thing you know we'll be having books to prove that Lewis Strauss, of Atomic Energy Commission fame, derived his suspicion of Stalin's motives from a parental spanking for thumb-sucking, or that Harry Truman stood up to the Communists in Greece and Korea because he had to exorcise the memory of hiding in a rain barrel from some Missouri roughnecks when he was 6 years old.

What they will do with General MacArthur, whose ideas often ran parallel to Forrestal's, is a question. MacArthur happened to admire his father and he loved his mother.

Force Account Is Getting New Attention

Ohio County Aides Expected To Use Procedure Often

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Force account" has been in the vocabulary of county commissioners, engineers and others in Ohio since 1917. But, because of a court interpretation, plenty of others apparently will be hearing the term.

Among those, probably, will be members of the 1965 legislature.

Officials of the County Commissioners, Prosecutors and Engineers associations agreed informally Tuesday to try to come up with some suggested revisions of Ohio's statutes on the subject.

In 1917 an old law, requiring two days work on the roads annually from all able-bodied Ohio males 21-65, was rescinded.

There have been varying interpretations of the "force account" statutes which have been in force since. One is that a county engineer may employ resources other than his own men and equipment to get a job — such as a road or bridge project — done, without competitive bidding.

In Athens County, the Ohio Bridge Co. was employed under this arrangement last year to supply a bridge over Federal Creek in Rome Township and repair the Frost Bridge over the Hocking River on County Road 58.

But Gabriel F. Pincelli of Chauncey brought a taxpayer's suit.

In February, Judge John W. Bolin of Athens County Common Pleas Court issued an injunction, preventing the county from paying the Cambridge firm. The court also denied a request to pay Ohio Bridge Co. as "a moral obligation."

Notice of appeal has been filed in the 4th Ohio District Court of Appeals, which includes Athens and 14 other counties.

The consensus at Tuesday's meeting seemed to be that "force account" is a useful tool of local government which should be preserved, and that this might be done by updating the 1917 law.

Representatives of the Commissioners, Prosecutors and Engineers associations, and possibly the Township Trustees Association, probably will tackle the job after the May 5 primary. Commissioners President Roger E. Smart of Lake County said.

Proponents say that, because many firms approach the local officials in an effort to get the job, "force account" has the effect of competitive bidding. And, they contend, the county engineer thus is relieved of the burden of having to maintain a large construction force to meet all demands and emergencies, can get the work done faster and effect economies. Finally, some go so far as to say it has been responsible for development of Ohio's county road systems.

Opponents argue that there have been abuses of the "force account" when projects aren't put up for competitive bidding. The Athens County decision stated that no reflection was intended on any public official, but that the "force account" statutes meant only that the county engineer could engage additional available local labor, not arrange for a firm to undertake an entire project.

'Home for Christmas' Slogan Became Only Mocking Memory

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third in a four-part series on Gen. Douglas MacArthur by Pulitzer Prize-winning Relman Morin of The Associated Press. Morin, who was there when MacArthur said it, tells how the "Home by Christmas" slogan came about and how the hopes to end the Korean conflict were lost.

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Writer
"Home by Christmas" was a happy sentiment.

But it became a mocking memory for Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his admirers, and a barbed taunt hurled at him again and again by his critics.

MacArthur uttered the words on an icy morning in November 1950, at a moment when it appeared that the Korean War was all but ended—and victoriously. This writer was present.

The circumstances of the episode, which figured heavily in the end of MacArthur's career, are these:

On Thanksgiving Day, one of MacArthur's aides telephoned and said, "The general would like to see you in his office this evening at 6:30." Four other correspondents also were summoned to the headquarters in Tokyo.

MacArthur was alone when we entered his office.

MacArthur's hands were always restless. Now he was rubbing the bowl of one of his pipes. He looked up with a slight smile and said he hoped he hadn't interfered with any Thanksgiving dinners. He said he was about to go home and settle down to his turkey. Then he said:

"I am going to Korea in the morning. I can take five of you. Takeoff is at 5 o'clock. You will be briefed on the plane."

This was somewhat unusual. Generally, when he went to Korea, he disclosed the purpose of the trip.

Shortly after takeoff the next morning, his aides handed around a communique. It was dated Nov. 24, 1950, and numbered No. 12. It said:

"The United Nations massive compression envelopment in North Korea against the new Red armies operating there is now approaching its decisive effort."

"The isolating component of the pincer, our air forces of all types, have for the past three weeks, in a sustained attack of model coordination and effectiveness, successfully interdicted enemy lines of supply from the north so that further reinforcement therefrom has been sharply curtailed."

"The eastern sector of the pincer, with noteworthy and effective naval support, has steadily advanced in a brilliant tactical movement and has now reached a commanding enveloping position, cutting in two the northern reaches of the enemy's geographical potential."

"This morning the western sector of the pincer moves forward in general assault in an effort to complete the compression and close the vise."

"If successful, this should for all practical purposes end the war, restore peace and unity to Korea, enable the prompt withdrawal of United Nations military forces, and permit the complete assumption by the Korean people and nation of full sovereignty and international equality. It is that for which we fight."

The tone of this communique reflected the high optimism of the moment.

But what of the Chinese? These were the "new Red armies" to which the communique referred. They had started appearing at the front in October. Peiping said they were "volunteers." By the end of the month, however, they had lashed out with a strong counterattack. Organized units of the Chinese Red army—not a handful of "volunteers"—had conducted the operation.

Then a strange set of events took place.

Mysteriously, the Chinese vanished. Large fighting patrols went out hunting for them but found none. Next, they released groups of American prisoners. The soldiers said a Chinese woman translator had told them:

"The Chinese do not want to fight Americans."

Further, correspondents in the Far East were given to understand that the Central Intelligence Agency judged that large-scale intervention by the Chinese Reds was unlikely.

It was against this background that Gen. MacArthur launched the offensive in the west on Nov. 24 and issued his communique.

When his plane landed, that morning, jeeps carried the party on a jolting ride across country to 9th Corps headquarters. Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the 8th Army, rode with MacArthur. The jeeps drew up in front of a wooden shack.

Waiting inside were Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter, corps commander, and his intelligence officer.

Then Walker said to Coulter: "I notice you haven't mentioned any objectives, Jack. I don't like that word, 'objectives.' I think we should just keep pushing as hard as we can go."

"That's what we're going to do," Coulter replied. "We're not thinking in terms of objectives."

MacArthur rose. He put his hand on Coulter's shoulder, smiled, and said: "That's right, Jack. You tell the boys that when they get to the Yalu, they're going home. I want to make good on my statement that they are going to eat Christmas dinner at home."

This was the origin of the "home by Christmas" statement.

MacArthur could not have meant it in the literal sense.

Even if the 8th Army had reached the Yalu River, if there had been no Chinese opposition whatever, the troops could not have been withdrawn immediately to bases in Japan—much less "home"—by Dec. 25.

He was simply hopeful of ending the war before the worst of the winter months settled over North Korea. He could not know the intentions of the Chinese Reds. Hence, the optimistic "home by Christmas" probably was designed for two purposes—to reassure Peiping that the advance would end at the Yalu and not go on into Red China, and to encourage the troops.

In any event, it backfired badly.

The savage, forbidding mountains on the frontier concealed a Chinese horde. After the briefings, MacArthur flew over these mountains. Looking down from an oversize window in his plane, he carefully scrutinized the tortuous terrain. If he suspected that it crawled with enemy infantry, the only way to flush them out was to order a general advance. This he did.

For two days, the offensive

Fostorian Is Freed on Murder Rap

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—A first-degree murder charge against Robert S. Moore of Fostoria, held in connection with the death of his wife in a house fire Jan. 8, was dropped today.

Seneca County Common Pleas Judge Harry Bozarth ordered the charges dropped following a lie detector test given Moore Monday.

Moore, 20, was charged after an autopsy in Cleveland on his wife, Phillis, 20. At that time, Dr. William Hoffman of the Cuyahoga County coroner's office listed the cause of death as a stab wound he said was inflicted before the fire.

Later, in a preliminary hearing, Dr. Hoffman said death was caused by burns, and the wound, which was not necessarily fatal, could have been suffered in a fall. Moore rescued his two small children in the fire.

mooved ahead smoothly. Then the Chinese came out of the mountains like an avalanche and hit the 8th Army. A general retreat began.

There was to be no "home by Christmas."

CCL Program Presented by Mrs. Measamer

The Child Conservation League voted to give its project money this year to the City Health Nurse, Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, to use as the need arises, and to the School for Exceptional Children for a sewing machine and tools. The group met in the home of Mrs. Charles Thompson, Collins Court. Mrs. Roger May, president, presided.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer presented the program on flower arranging, using as few flowers as possible, during a season when flowers are not in bloom in the garden.

The basics Mrs. Measamer stressed were: 1. Containers, which could be a vegetable dish or a wine bottle. 2. Mechanics, which are pinholders, kitchen or floral scissors, thin wire and posey clay. 3. An idea or two. She also gave rules for table decorations for formal and informal dinners.

Mrs. Measamer made several arrangements using evergreens, corky bark euonymus, pachysandra, a few roses, iris, daffodils, figurines, wild pansies and leatherleaf fern. She closed her talk and demonstration with the thought that arrangers try to achieve beauty with as few things as possible and the least cost as possible.

Officers elected for the new year are: Mrs. William Sprague, president; Mrs. Philip Hardy, vice - president; Mrs. William Richards, secretary; Mrs. F. O. Patrick, treasurer; program 1965-66, Mrs. Glen McCoy, chairman; Mrs. C. K. Vaughn, Mrs. Robert Cole, Mrs. Kenneth Luna.

The next meeting date has been changed to May 12, at Mrs. May's home, Route 1. The club voted to contribute to the Cancer Society in memory of Mrs. Fanny Schanzbach.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

Father Knew Best!

DEAR ABBY: Several days ago a letter came to our home addressed to a 15-year-old boy our daughter knows. It was sent in care of our daughter. My husband saw it and started to question her. He wanted to know what right the boy had to instruct someone to send him mail in her care. She said she didn't know anything about it, and didn't see where it was any of her father's business. I sided with my daughter. Her father allowed her to give the letter to the boy, but he instructed her to tell him that it was not to happen again. What is your opinion on this? We can't judge the boy as we hardly know him.

MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I think your husband was right. But he didn't go far enough. He should have asked his daughter to bring the boy around so he could become acquainted with him, gain his confidence and learn why the boy can't receive mail at home. Fifteen-year-olds need all the help and understanding they can get.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the person asking what you thought about folks whose Christmas cards arrived after Christmas, I was pleased with your reply: "Better late than never. Who counts?"

Bravo, Abby! What has happened to the spirit of Christmas? I shall never forget a bottle of home-made perfume that smelled strangely like vanilla extract. It was crudely wrapped in Christmas paper that had obviously been used on another gift, and tied with a second-hand red ribbon. But there was so much love in its manner of presentation I almost wept. It was from a ten-year-old girl whose family was on relief. How I cherished the thought!

SCHOOL TEACHER

DEAR ABBY: I want to get married. Should I ask the girl first, or should I ask her father? Some say I should ask the girl first, and if she says yes, I should then ask her father. It seems to me that I should ask the father first, because if he says no, it wouldn't make any sense to ask the girl. Will you kindly advise me? I thank you.

ABOUT TO
DEAR ABOUT: Ask the girl first. If she says no, you've had it, boy!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HER TEACHER": I want to write to the little blind girl who wrote me a sweet letter in Braille. Please send me her name and address.

A "cook's tour" of the New York World's Fair, ideas on foreign and exotic foods and an informative demonstration, of kitchen planning and color coordination are among features of the second and final day of the Blue Flame Festival tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The Festival was to open at 8 p. m. today with an initial performance titled "Tell You What We're Gonna Do." Admission to both performances is free.

Pegler Quits Writing for Birch Society

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Writer Westbrook Pegler said today he has refused to write anything further for the American Opinion, published by Robert Welch, president of the John Birch Society.

Pegler said in an interview at his home here that Welch wrote him a 13-page letter attempting to explain how the imposition of censorship was consistent with his declaration and published statements that there would be no censorship.

Pegler also said Welch's wife wrote him a letter saying they had lost a great many contributions because of expressions of Pegler's.

"I was never with the John Birch Society. Neither did I have the authority to speak for it. I have now refused to write for its magazine," Pegler said.

Pegler said about a third of an article written for and rejected by American Opinion dealt with Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Earlier, Laurence E. Bunker of Wellesley, Mass., a member of the periodical's advisory board, said a difference existed between the editors and Pegler on what material should, or should not, properly appear in articles dealing specifically with labor.

Driftwood Finds Are Turned Into Many Things of Beauty

By GROVER BRINKMAN
Central Press Assn.
Correspondent

GRAND TOWER, Ill. — One usually associates beachcombing with the pounding of ocean surf. But here at this river town of Grand Tower, Mrs. Lou McClure is a beachcomber whose hobby as a driftwood artist has spread to all of the United States, plus a few foreign countries.

Mrs. McClure walks the streams near her home, notably the Mississippi, the Big Muddy and the Kaskaskia rivers, turning her "finds" into things of beauty.

The passage of time, the action of water and the elements have been the carpenter that shape the bits of flotsam into odd caricatures of animals, reptiles, birds and "things." Mrs. McClure's practiced eyes trained by six years of river-walking, know the possibilities of each bit of flotsam she sees, and her creative imagination does the rest.

So unique is her driftwood creations, Mrs. McClure has had her work exhibited in every state in the Union, as well as in England and France. The guest book at her home reads like a motel register.

"This hobby entails a lot of physical work and much 'walking,'" Mrs. McClure said, "but I love it. When I find some old stump, or odd bit of wood that offers possibilities, it starts my mind buzzing."

A short walk down a sandbar with this river-artist is revealing. Here is an old cottonwood crag. Lying there, half buried in the sand, it is nothing. Pick it up, turn it, and suddenly it becomes the head of an animal. Here's an old cedar stump, jagged and weathered. Wash off the muck, up-end it, and even the untrained eye sees the possibilities of a center piece for a dining table.

Mrs. McClure never "doctors" her finds, merely cleans and stains them, to make them acceptable in the living or dining room, or as a wall ornament.

Among the thousands of pieces of driftwood she has picked up over the years, there are pieces that are almost perfect caricatures of animals on the prowl, such as the heads of foxes, bears, deer, etc. She has one piece that even the novice recognizes as a fighting rooster.

another that is a soaring vulture, coming in for a landing. One large piece is a perfect howling wolf, another a life-size snake, an alligator, an owl, a bear on the limb.

Anyone, Mrs. McClure insists, can enjoy this hobby. Find a river, start walking. If you have a spark of creative ability, it will soon develop, once you see the odd bits of flotsam the streams deposit on sandbars.

"Driftwood hunting is always best after the spring floods," Mrs. McClure concludes. "I go over the same bars after each flooding, and always there's something new."

Probe Asked Of Racial 'Rifle Club'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said today he hopes the Justice Department will look into the reported formation of rifle clubs in Cleveland, Ohio, and elsewhere to support the civil rights drive.

He told the senate that Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, had performed a service by advising his colleagues of "this serious situation."

Lausche, in his speech, cited a Cleveland Plain Dealer story quoting Lewis G. Robinson, 35-year-old World War II veteran, as saying that "Negroes must become prepared to protect themselves against any person who violates their civil liberties when the police department fails to do this."

Miller noted that Robinson was quoted as saying that members of the rifle clubs will wear Army fatigues and receive the equivalent of Army basic training.

In urging a Justice Department investigation, Miller said it should determine whether the formation of such clubs constitutes "subversive organizations" and whether the wearing of Army fatigues is illegal.

JFK's Sister Barred from Buying Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Lawford and his wife, Pat, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, have been barred from buying an apartment in a fashionable 15-story cooperative here reportedly because he is an actor and she is a Democrat.

The apartment's owner, socialite Charles Amory, said Monday night he was ready to sell to the Lawfords when a hitch developed.

"I can't understand it," Amory was quoted in the New York Daily News. "The Lawfords are wonderful people. All arrangements have been completed and the papers signed."

"However, certain individuals in the building have refused to endorse the sale because Peter Lawford is an actor and Mrs. Lawford is a Democrat."

A tenant, who asked not to be named, said one of the five members of the building's board of directors turned thumbs down on the Lawfords. Unanimous approval by the board is required on all sales.

Detroit Education Fuss Near Explosion

DETROIT (AP)—A three-way dispute involving Detroit's Board of Education and rival schoolteacher organizations is threatening to explode into picket lines and the mass firing of teachers.

At issue is the question of collective bargaining methods and rights for some 10,000 public school teachers.

The struggle pits the AFL-CIO Detroit Federation of Teachers against the Detroit Education Association, an affiliate of the National Education Association. It parallels similar disputes in other cities, including Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and New York.

In Milwaukee, a showdown vote in a collective bargaining election recently brought victory for the Teachers Education Association over the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers.

The 605-vote defeat for the federation was a blow to Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, who headed the AFL-CIO drive to unionize the teachers.

New Springfield Steel Foundry Is Planned
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Steel Foundry Co. here has announced plans to build a high alloy steel foundry northwest of Springfield next year that eventually could provide some 500 jobs.

The firm said Tuesday target date for completion of the new plant is April 1, 1965. Cost of the plant was not estimated.

for the Teachers Education Association over the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers.

The 605-vote defeat for the federation was a blow to Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, who headed the AFL-CIO drive to unionize the teachers.

PANAMA EMISSARY — President Johnson announced in Washington that the United States and Panama have agreed to reopen diplomatic relations and hold talks on Panama Canal issues, and named former Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson (above) as his special emissary for the talks.

ers in the basic philosophical clash with the National Education Association.

Reuther contends the association — which considers itself a professional organization rather than a union—neglects the economic well-being of the teacher and concentrates on school administration problems.

National Education Association spokesmen, however, say their organization is interested in both but believes in taking what they call "sanctions" rather than strike action to gain improved standards for teachers. Sanctions can include refusal to sign annual contracts.

A Michigan law bans strikes by public employees and until recently it was interpreted as prohibiting the naming of any one bargaining agent for them.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley reaffirmed the strike ban in a new opinion issued last month but said the board could, in its discretion, deal with a single organization representing the teachers.

Under the law, known as the Hutchinson Act, any government employee who engages in a walkout "shall thereby abandon and terminate his appointment or employment and shall no longer hold such position."

The dismissed employee could be rehired, but only with the loss of pension and seniority rights, with no pay raise for one year and with probationary status for two years.

Despite the penalties, the Detroit Federation of Teachers voted 2,109,387 to strike if the Board of Education does not back down in its refusal to hold a collective bargaining election. It set April 15 as the strike date.

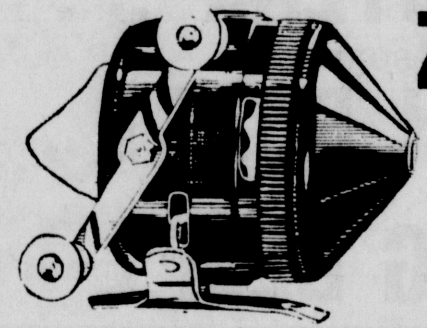

The union presented the board with petitions last May requesting the election. Nearly 7,000 teachers had signed.

The strike vote was deplored by the rival Detroit Education Association, which challenges the federation's claim that its membership represents a majority of the Detroit teachers.

The Board of Education has a plan it says may solve the dispute. Under the proposal, teachers would be represented jointly by delegates from the two organizations on an 11-member bargaining panel to be called the Teachers Representative Committee.

In case of a deadlock, a conference committee would be appointed. If that failed, a special mediation committee would take over.

Ohio Lawn Seed Firm Denies Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of an Ohio lawn products firm said today that Justice Department charges of price-fixing against the company are without foundation.

"We sincerely feel that the charges are without foundation and based upon a misapprehension of the facts of our business dealings over the past five years," Paul C. Williams, president of the O. M. Scott & Sons Co. of Marysville, Ohio, said in a statement.

The department filed a civil antitrust suit here March 30, charging that Scott has illegally required its distributors to maintain fixed prices in the District of Columbia and eight states.

Williams said that, while the complaint says the alleged conduct began in 1959, Scott has not varied its distribution practices in more than 25 years.

"Furthermore," he said, "the latest investigation was the fourth which we have been subjected to by the Department of Justice in the past five years."

A nice crowd attended the Silver Tea on Saturday. Entertainment consisted of a solo by Reverend Charles Hill, an organ solo by Mrs. Ruth Ridgeway, recitation by Miss Ruth Thelma White and singing by the Junior and Senior Choirs. Among the guests were several from Circleville, Columbus, Grove City, Five Points, Harrisburg, Hedges Chapel and Middletown.

Cosmonauts Prep for New Flights

MOSCOW (AP)—Yuri Gagarin said today he and other cosmonauts are training for new voyages into space.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Soviet scientists have made important experiments with a new type of air for spaceships.

The twin announcements indicated the Russians are preparing for some new space spectacular.

The news conference was called in connection with the "day of the cosmonauts"—April 12—the third anniversary of the historic flight of Gagarin, the first man to orbit the earth.

Soviet space scientists also were on hand but they were mum.

Lead Poisoning

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP) — Around Ogallala, self-styled "Cowboy Capital," the wags are having a lot of fun about the case of "lead poisoning" contracted by Gov. Frank Morrison on a recent visit.

The story started when physicians revealed that while attending a conference, the governor accidentally rammed a lead pencil into the palm of his hand and had to have medical attention for it.

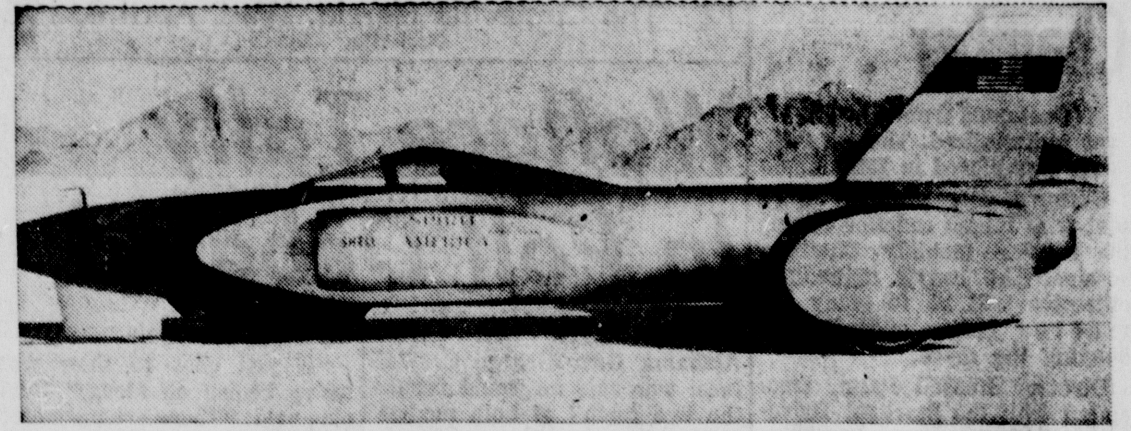

Tass described experiments with synthetic air in pressurized cabins.

Tass said that nitrogen was taken out of the air and replaced by helium. Normally, nitrogen constitutes 78 per cent of the air a person breathes.

The new mixture has been tested, Tass said, on men who remained in pressure cabins for periods from 10 to 25 days.

Tass reported the helium produced a surprising result, that "a man with a bass voice began to speak tenor."

"This is not hazardous to health, but it does create additional difficulties," Tass said.

Chamber . . .

ver materialized. The old Cliftona was closed in 1954.

Clifton's new proposal was met with mixed reaction during the regular monthly Chamber session. The body's immediate objective will be to study the matter before endorsing or denying the move.

Director Russell Palm, associated with the Starlight Drive-in, commented on some of the possible problems that could confront the theater opening. He said it was not his intention to "throw cold water" on the proposal, but noted that a thorough study of the matter should be conducted.

Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of schools, said he could see no objection or possible public loss concerning Clifton's proposal. He said it seems like a "good plan" to him.

THE QUESTION was raised concerning possible failure through poor attendance once the theater would be opened. Clifton replied that money would be returned to patrons for unused advance sale tickets. "I would be the loser if this happened," he exclaimed.

Clifton said a major portion of his initial investment would be for recovering seats in the theater building, a new screen, carpeting, redecorating and other requirements.

The owner said air conditioning would not be included in initial remodeling. "This and other future improvements would depend on success of the new venture," he added.

Wallace Tally In Poll Debated

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who said he would "shake the eye teeth" of both parties' leaders if he attracted more than 25,000 Wisconsin votes in his campaign against the civil rights bill, won 10 times that many in Tuesday's presidential primary.

But Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, who headed a favorite - son delegation as the personal choice of President Johnson, won all of the state's 46 Democratic National Convention votes. In the process, Reynolds topped the late President John F. Kennedy's record for the most votes ever won by a Democrat in the primary test.

The Southern segregationist's triumphant assertion that winning nearly one-fourth of the total vote cast in the traditionally progressive Badger state constituted a grass roots referendum that "will send a good message both to the Congress and to the two national parties" was immediately challenged by the other principals.

"It just goes to show what we've known all along," Reynolds said. "There are prejudiced people in the North as well as in the South."

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay, the Republican favorite son whose candidacy kept the GOP primary free of serious contenders for the presidential nomination, said, "I don't think this election proves anything at all about the civil rights bill."

With 3,489 of the state's 3,525 precincts reporting, the vote was:

Reynolds (D) 508,597

Wallace (D) 261,148

Byrnes (R) 294,724

In a state which has no produced a majority for a Democratic presidential nominee since the election of Harry S. Truman in 1948, the casting of more than 70 per cent of the vote in the Reynolds-Wallace fight showed that thousands of Republicans had taken advantage of the open primary to mark the other party's ballot.

Reynolds termed the crossover, which produced big Democratic totals in scores of solidly Republican areas, tremendous but added that it was "an old Wisconsin custom."

Byrnes said, "There is no more significance to the general crossover now than there was in 1960."

Four years ago, Kennedy won a majority of the delegates and a head start on the road to the White House when he whipped Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in a similar primary 476,024 to 366,753. Richard M. Nixon, unopposed in 1960 as Byrnes was Tuesday, trailed with 339,383, but carried the state in the general election 895,175 to 830,805.

Tuesday's vote total, however, was short of the 1960 record of 1.2 million.

Wallace told supporters at his downtown Milwaukee headquarters Tuesday night that their showing was a victory over administration Democrats "and they know it."

"This so-called civil rights bill is not in the interest of anybody," he declared, and thanked some 200 persons crowded into a hotel ballroom for their effort "to break up centralized government."

Wallace, who was cheered, jeered and thumped once on the head by a picket sign during his campaign, said, "There will always be a warm place in my heart for Wisconsin." He will take his campaign into the Maryland and Indiana primaries next month.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, April 8, the 99th day of 1964. There are 267 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1918, the first air squadron of the United States Army was assigned to duty. At the time, it was the only one that had seen active duty having served in the Mexican Expedition under General Pershing in 1916.

On this date In 1513, Ponce de Leon landed in Florida.

In 1663, the Drury Lane Theater opened in London.

In 1847, Gen. Winfield Scott began his march along the historic route of Cortez from Vera Cruz for the invasion of Mexico.

In 1942, the Japanese invaded the Admiralty Islands.

In 1952 President Truman seized the steel industry to avert a nationwide strike but the Supreme Court later ruled the seizure illegal.

Ten years ago—Eleven crewmen were killed in the crash of an American plane off Honshu Island, Japan.

Five years ago—The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Council of Ministers met in a conference devoted mainly to economic problems.

One year ago—The Wheeling Steel Corp. announced a selective price increase, almost exactly a year after President Kennedy had used his power and prestige to force the industry to rescind a price rise.

He was arrested last Dec. 17 and wounded in a battle with police after a holdup at a branch of the First National Exchange Bank in Sidney.

20 SE Ohio Counties Tagged for 'Poverty' Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty counties in Southeast Ohio currently are not eligible to participate in the Appalachian project but would be included in programs under President Johnson's War on Poverty project if Congress approves the funds.

Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio wrote Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., undersecretary of commerce and chairman of the President's Appalachian Regional Commission, that Ohio would not participate in the Appalachia program.

Rhodes, contending that the counties involved would benefit more under a state program, said in a Feb. 25 letter to Roosevelt that there are enough federal agencies to support the activities in which there is a proper federal interest.

Congress has been asked to provide $962.5 million for the War on Poverty program. This would be in addition to the $220 million requested to aid distressed areas in the nine-state Appalachia project. Ohio would have been the 10th state.

A spokesman for the Appalachia project said that, while the 20 counties in Ohio which were originally included in that project are not now included, they would expect to benefit from programs which are approved on the War on Poverty campaign.

The 20 counties are Adams, Athens, Belmont, Brown, Clermont, Gallia, Guernsey, Highland, Hocking, Jackson, Lawrence, Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Noble, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Vin ton and Washington. They are in the congressional districts of Reps. Homer E. Abele, R.; William H. Harsha, R.; and Robert T. Secrest, D. Abele said he is not committed to the Appalachia project until he knows just what will be included in the authorizing legislation.

Secrest said if the state can accomplish the job in the 20-county area, that would satisfy him.

Planning Progress Outlined During Area Chamber Meet

A rundown on city-county planning was one of several committee reports submitted at yesterday's monthly meeting of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Ned Harden, committee chairman, said an increasing amount of interest is being shown in a regional planning program. But he also commented on the vast amount of work that yet remains.

Confident that the city-county program has potential, Harden said his Regional Planning group and other interested persons are using a new approach to obtain a more solid backing and continued progress. This, he said, amounts to contacting the public through such groups as the Farm Bureau and Granges.

The chairman stressed the point that every effort must be made to offer the public understandable information on the specific objectives and designs of planning and why it is vital to all communities.

HE CLAIMED that the Regional Planning unit will need more than the $400 recently authorized by the Board of County Commissioners if future satisfactory operation is expected. He said an adequate plan for Pickaway County may cost from $20,000 to $40,000.

Harden cited the need for a new aerial map of the county as an initial priority in the program. This would replace an outmoded aerial made in the 1940's.

In other business, initial plans were announced for a "Meet the Candidates" rally scheduled April 25 at the Fairgrounds Coliseum under sponsorship of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce. The program was outlined by Charles Allton, Jaycees president and representative to the senior Chamber.

The rally will be a non-partisan event, with candidates from both parties invited to participate. According to past records, it will be the first such program offered here.

Other reports were submitted by L. D. Varble on a successful B-I-E Day here Mar. 13; G. Ninde Lawson on activities conducted by his public affairs committee; Dan Crabtree on public relations projects and Jack Clifton on welcome and membership.

Additional discussion centered on the purchase of a new identification sign for Berger Hospital. Cost was estimated in the neighborhood of $350, with labor offered on a voluntary basis. The proposal was referred to Charles Wellman's safety committee for further study.

Mail Truck Pilot Pauses for Nip

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A U.S. mail truck that had been missing since early Monday night was found here yesterday.

Officials said the truck, which was supposed to have arrived in Akron at 7:55 Monday night, was found parked outside a Canton bar. The driver was inside, officials said.

Officials quoted the driver, a new employee, as saying that after leaving the Canton post office Monday night he stopped in the bar for a drink and stayed all night.

The driver was released to postal authorities. It was not known if charges would be filed.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the definitive biography of Gen. Douglas MacArthur is finally written it will be one of the fascinating stories of American history.

By his very nature—the drive for success and domination, the sensitivity to criticism, the intense opinions, the sense of drama—he was born to attract and repel. And he did.

He had admirers and critics all his days, some of them intense, too.

His command of the language was probably better than that of any other military figure of his time. But even here, in the use of it, he forced people to choose sides.

Among other things he diluted his rhetoric with sentimentality. Example: When he told Congress, after being dismissed from his Korean command, that old soldiers fade away and he was about to. Some wept. Some felt distaste.

More than one person thought he dramatized himself. Even Lord Alanbrooke felt this. Alanbrooke, chief of the British general staff in World War II and a MacArthur admirer, called him the greatest general of the war.

But he also said he saw the "tinge of actor" in him.

MacArthur, after saying he would fade away, did the opposite. He toured the country attacking the administration of President Harry S. Truman who had fired him. An aide said this was a crusade to save representative government.

But a Princeton historian, Eric F. Goldman, saw it otherwise, called it the noisiest "fading away in history" and described MacArthur thus: "In city after city MacArthur was the unabashed symbol of home and motherhood and what he delighted in calling the 'simple, eternal truths of the American way.'"

(Goldman is now President Johnson's special assistant assigned to pick ideas from America's brainiest men.)

Nevertheless, MacArthur got thunderous ovations everywhere. But if he had presidential hopes—he said he didn't—he soon found the acclaim he got was for his heroic military services and went no further.

He was a controversial figure at a time when Americans were getting sick of controversy: sick of the Korean war and sick of the divisions wrought by McCarthyism with all that meant in distrust, anger, hate.

There was talk of MacArthur for president but not much at that particular time, which was 1951, a year before the 1952 presidential race.

In 1948, MacArthur had said he would accept the Republican nomination if it was offered to him. He let his name be entered in the Wisconsin primary and was badly beaten. After that he said he had no political aspirations.

Truman said MacArthur told him in 1950 the politicians had made a "chump" of him in 1948. But at least at that particular time MacArthur didn't have the kind of personality that appealed to politicians.

Instead, in 1952 the Republican politicians turned to a completely different type: the placid, friendly, extroverted Dwight D. Eisenhower. Nevertheless, MacArthur's name was put in nomination.

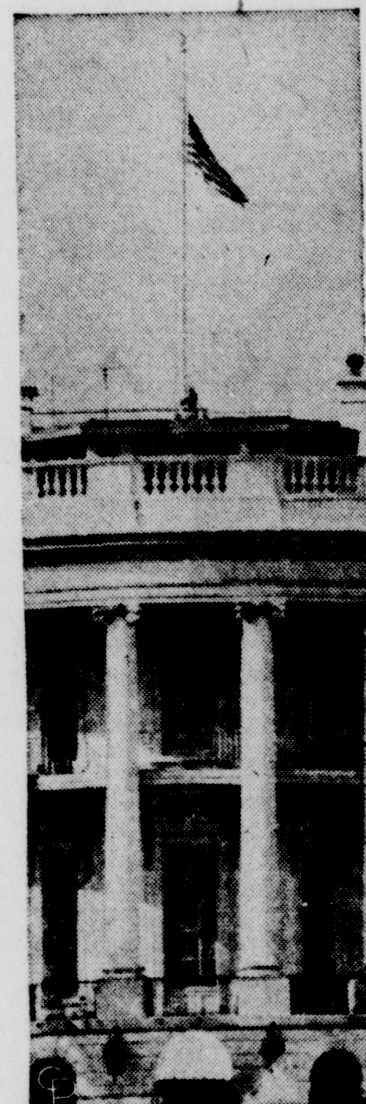

Like MacArthur, Eisenhower was a war hero but, unlike MacArthur, he would make an ideal smoother of the troubled waters of those times. MacArthur has been quoted as calling him derisively "the best clerk I ever had."

But, while MacArthur got only four convention votes, Eisenhower got 845 and the nomination.

MacArthur had made the keynote speech at that Republican convention. The delegates gave him huge applause. But former President Herbert Hoover also addressed the convention. The applause for him was twice as long.

From then on MacArthur faded out of public life.

In World War II, when President Franklin Roosevelt ordered temporary buildings erected, he reportedly told the builder, "I want you to design these so they will fall down after seven years. I don't want this war to make Washington any uglier."

Royals Revive To Top Celts

Big O, Lucas Back in Form

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's one-two punch of Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas powered the Royals to a do or die fourth-game victory over the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division playoff finals of the National Basketball Association Tuesday night.

Boston, winner of the first three in the best-of-seven set, was in position to take its eighth straight division title Tuesday night but ended up on the short end of the score, 102-93.

The series moves to Boston for the fifth game Thursday night.

"The pressure was on us and I told the team to just relax and play their normal game," said Royals' Coach Jack McMahon. "We only made some small adjustments on both offense and defense."

But those adjustments just about bottled up Boston's Bill Russell. The big center, who led the Celtics in the first three games, got only one field goal and seven free throws for nine points. He grabbed 24 rebounds, but Lucas pulled down 25 for the Royals.

In the NBA's Western Division finals, St. Louis and San Francisco tangled in a fourth game tonight at St. Louis. The Hawks lead that series 2-1.

McMahon credited Robertson's second half performance and Lucas' rebounding as the big factors in the Royals' win. Robertson got 25 points in the last half and ended up with 33 to share scoring honors with the Celtics' Sam Jones.

Jack Twyman with 31 points also turned in a top performance for the Royals.

Celtics Coach Red Auerbach said the Royals played better "and we shot only 30 per cent. That's not too good."

"They're not a punk ball club that you can beat four times in a row. They have a lot of pride and didn't want to lose four straight."

McMahon said Lucas appears to be over his back trouble. "When he's rebounding for us and limiting Boston to only one shot and starting our fast break, there is a difference like night and day with this club. Last night was a good example." Lucas also scored 16 points.

CHS Game Postponed

The Circleville High School baseball game scheduled yesterday at Chillicothe was rained out.

The next scheduled game for the Tiger baseballers is Friday when they host Teays Valley High School.

Saturday at 1 p. m. they play at Washington C. H. Both the reserve team and the varsity will play.

Explanation

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Fast-ing is dispensed for our guests," read a sign at the Wisconsin Catholic High School Basketball Tournament here.

But one coach checked with a priest to see if the sign was genuine and linden diet restrictions really had been lifted.

"Don't worry," replied the priest, "It's kosher."

Six of Army's 10 football games next fall will be played at West Point.

Viking Thinclads Post 60-58 Win

Mike Seymour grabbed a pair of firsts and a second last night to pace Teays Valley High School to a 60-58 win in a dual track meet with visiting Carroll.

In the first outing of the season for the Vikings, they grabbed eight wins, placed second six times and third twice. The Carroll Bulldogs had only six firsts, matched the Vikings with six second place finishes and came in third ten times.

Seymour's wins were in the 120-yard high hurdles where he finished 2.4 seconds ahead of his nearest competitor in 16.1, and in the broad jump with a leap of 19-feet 6 3/4 inches.

In the 100-yard dash he was edged at the tape by his teammate Hall, although officials timed both runners in 10.7 seconds.

THE BULLDOGS scored 38 of their points by coping both relay events and sweeping the discus and the 180 low hurdles. A number of track and field records at the Viking track were tied or bettered, unofficially.

In the high jump, both Wills and Pennington matched the record of 5-feet 10-inches held by Tom Hartley, although it took Pennington more attempts to clear the bar than it did Wills.

Swickhammer's heave of 123-feet 8 1/2-inches in the discus exceeded the record of 120-feet 2-inches held by Ron Wills of Teays Valley.

Mike Seymour tied Jim Wood of Circleville for the high hurdle mark of 16.1 established last year at the track, and Hall's time of 10.7 equaled the time turned in by Gerhart of The Plains a year ago.

Davis of Carroll set a new mark in the 440-yard dash with a time of 56.5.

Walnut Harness Trainer Has 10 Horses in Stables

Porter Martin, a Walnut Twp. farmer and harness horse owner, is training 10 head of horses at his private track for the summer racing season.

Martin's colts are heavily staked in the southern Ohio county fairs. He will also race at Buffalo, Northfield Park and Scioto Downs.

Assisting Martin with the training of his string are his son, Ernie, and his son-in-law, Bill Shelton.

One of the leading winners for Martin last year was the pacer Try Yucatan, who owns a record of 2:06.1.

MISS YOU, owned by Martin, has a mark of 2:07. Shelton owns Margie's Pilot, an aged mare with a mark of 2:08.

Ernie Martin's Chick Pick, a 3-year-old pacer, has gone the mile in 2:09. Jean's Tavern, a 3-year-old full sister of J. M. Pilot, is owned by Porter Martin Jr.

Another 3-year-old pacer in Martin's stable is Doris Pilot. She is owned by Wilson and Porter Martin Jr.

Edna's Pride and Martha Guy are two of the 2-year-old pacers in the stables — both owned by Porter.

Shelton and Robert Stir have a promising 2-year-old trotter in Astronaut while Ivalie Reed of Circleville owns Laura Lisa, presently being trained by Martin.

Martin's horses are frequent winners in both the annual Spring Harness Matinee and the Pickaway County Fair race card.

The Spring Matinee this year will be held April 19.

2 Golf Matches Are Scheduled

Circleville High School golf coach Robert Ransom announced today that meets have been scheduled with Pleasant View Thursday and with Teays Valley Friday.

The meets will be held after school.

Trio Cited For Fitness Contributions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three men who made major contributions to America's renewed drive for physical fitness got a personal "well done" today from President Johnson and awards from the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Scheduled to receive $1,000 special awards at a luncheon climaxing the first year of the Jaycees' physical fitness leadership awards program were:

Bill Bowerman, 52, of Eugene, Ore., University of Oregon track coach, who helped establish "jogging," a run not much faster than a walk, as an aid to physical fitness.

Frank J. Manley, 60, of Flint, Mich., who opened Flint school doors for night and weekend recreation activities that now attract 70,000 persons each week. He is assistant superintendent of schools in Flint.

Ralph Stanphill, 48, of Muskogee, Okla., physical educator, who directed and coordinated a pilot physical fitness program in the Muskogee school system used as a model by the President's Council for Physical Fitness.

These men, along with nine other regional winners, are being honored in a two-day visit to the nation's capital.

Teays Valley Baseball Unit Loses, 5-0

The Teays Valley Vikings were handed a loss in their opening baseball game of the season yesterday as host school Groveport posted a 5-0 shutout.

Teays Valley batters went down swinging a total of 20 times in the tilt. Groveport hurlers McKee and Stone teamed up to pitch a two-hit game.

McKee started the game for the winners, fanning 15 during his five inning stint on the mound. Stone whiffed five in two innings.

For the Vikings, Charles Griffee started. He was relieved by Mel Fridley, who gave up four hits — two doubles and two singles — and four runs in the fifth inning. Cook finished the game.

VIKING hurlers fanned seven, gave up a total of seven hits. Teays Valley was charged with five errors.

The game was halted for five minutes in the third inning because of rain.

Tomorrow the Vikings travel to Columbus East.

WATER ON THE BRAIN

Q. Is there any cure for water on the brain?

A. Some cases of hydrocephalus ("water on the brain") can be treated — others are almost hopeless. Doctors who have had extensive experience in this field usually offer the following advice. If the condition is getting worse but has not yet affected the brain, an operation may help. If the condition is at a standstill the child should be given regular checkups to see if surgery will be needed. If the brain has been badly damaged, the child should simply be given the best care possible until the end. Operations to relieve "water on the brain" are difficult and not always successful, but some children are helped, even to the point of growing up in a perfectly normal way.

MILK-ON-THE-WRIST TEST

Q. Is the "milk-on-the-wrist" method a good way to test the temperature of a baby's formula?

A. No, but lots of mothers use this method. To feel the warmth of the milk on the wrist the temperature of the liquid would have to be at least 120°F. This is about 22 degrees hotter than the temperature of milk nature provides for the breast-fed baby.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Youth Cited In Shooting Found Dead

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 18-year-old youth, under indictment for shooting with intent to wound, was found dead in a car parked in a garage at his West Side home Tuesday.

Police said Michael Kupresanin apparently asphyxiated himself. The coroner will rule on the cause of death.

Kupresanin surrendered to police March 17 in connection with the shotgun shooting March 7 of Elmer G. Mullins, 26.

Mullins, still in Lutheran Hospital, was shot mistakenly by Kupresanin in a feud with a rival teen-age gang, authorities said. Kupresanin was indicted last month by the Cuyahoga County grand jury and released on bond.

In 1962 he was sentenced to 14 months in the Boys Industrial School for shooting a 14-year-old West Side girl in the face.

Seabees bounced them out of their nests.

The comical gooneys on the mid-Pacific atoll — whose ranks were thinned by a recent extermination program — now are sending out scouts to oversee paving operations aimed to keep them off Navy runways.

The scouts, crossing in front of or marching slowly ahead of heavy Seabee equipment, are keeping Navy men hopping. Sailors are detailed to walk ahead of graders, tractors and heavy shovels. Their job is to pick up the waddling gooneys and carry them out of harm's way.

For years, a colony of about 250,000 gooneys — the Blackfoot or Laysan albatross — have held squatter's rights on Midway. Their habit of building nests beside Navy runways and of cruising gracefully in take-off and landing patterns caused thousands of dollars damage to planes when they collided with the large birds. The Navy also became concerned about the danger to airmen.

Earlier this year, after years of study by scientists and biologists, the Navy initiated a two-pronged program to get the gooneys out of their hair.

They gassed and killed 20,000 birds in nests beside the runways, then began hardtopping the area so other gooneys could not take their place.

The project won the blessing of Audubon Society officials.

The plan has gone well, al-

2 Marion Phone Aides Are Honored

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Independent Telephone Association has honored two Marion men for a performance "beyond the call of duty."

The two men were credited with leading guests to safety from a motel on U.S. 40 west of Cambridge last June when a destructive flash flood hit the area.

The men, Theodore Oberbauer and David Kirk, are both equipment installers for the General Telephone Co.'s Cambridge exchange area.

Motel owners said the two telephone employees saved at least two lives by means of their emergency first-aid and water rescue procedures. Each received silver trays with individualized engravings.

The tribute to the men came Tuesday during the 69th annual convention of the association.

though the curious gooneys that insist on walking in front of equipment have slowed the job slightly.

Navy men are hopeful, however, that they've at last found a way of keeping their runways and aircraft approaches clear.

When the Seabees finish the paving—and if the gooneys run true to form—birds returning to their original nesting ground will be unable to build nests. These normally consist of loose sand and ironwood needles, no longer available on the hardtopped surface.

Thus, the Navy is crossing its collective fingers that it finally has conquered the lovable gooneys, some of which are household pets among the 3,000 servicemen and their families on lonely Midway.

But knowing the gooney as the Navy knows the gooney, those responsible for the current project aren't yet counting their—er—chickens.

Young, Glenn, Lausche Hit By Al Ball

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)—Albert T. Ball of Cleveland, seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio, has leveled attacks against Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen Young and Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

Ball told a Jackson-Jefferson Day dinner here Tuesday night that entrance in Ohio's senatorial race by Glenn—and his subsequent withdrawal — was "shameful conduct to the people of Ohio."

While not mentioning Glenn by name, Ball said the former astronaut "should have thought of the people of Ohio first. We know big interests forced him into this race against his own reasoning."

Glenn quit the race March 30 when a head injury prevented his release from the Marine Corps in time to campaign for the May 5 primary.

Of Lausche and Young, whose names he did not mention, Ball said:

"Our present senators have not seen fit to introduce or get sponsors on any of the bills that are needed."

Young, seeking re-election, is opposed in the primary by Ball and another unpublicized aspirant, William Hotchkiss of Akron.

other widely used products.

A spokesman for one of the firms—Armco—said:

"Apparently, these allegations arise out of efforts to promote the use of steel in traditional markets for steel and to combat the inroads made by competitive materials such as aluminum, glass, plastics, cement and others."

The steel industry sells sheet steel at a base price, and adds extra assessments for tailoring the steel to specific requirements.

The government alleges that these extra charges were rigged by the steel producers in secret meetings in two New York City hotels from 1955 to 1961. No minutes of the meetings were kept, the government says. It charges that purchasers of sheet steel were "deprived of the benefits of free and open competition" as a result of the alleged price-fixing.

The firms and individuals indicted, with their standings as to size in the industry indicated in parenthesis, are:

U. S. Steel (1) and its assistant general manager for administrative services, James P. Barton.

Bethlehem Steel Co. (2) and its former assistant vice president of sales, W. J. Stephens, who now is president of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. (5), Armco Steel Corp. (6), Wheeling Steel Corp. (11), and Great Lakes Steel Corp.

Named as co-conspirators, but not defendants, and expected to testify against the others were Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. (7), Pittsburgh Steel Co. (14) and Granite City Steel Co.

Disposal Permit Expiration Date Near, Lawmakers Told

Circleville Council was notified last night that the expiration date for the city's permit to discharge waste into the Scioto River is near at hand.

A letter to this effect was directed here by the Ohio Pollution Control Board. The permit here expires May 15.

Permits to dump partially treated waste into the Scioto are granted on a yearly basis by the Pollution Control Board. The state panel has deemed local sewage treatment facilities inadequate for the last several years.

Renewal of the permits each year are contingent upon what action the city has taken or is in the process of taking towards improvement.

THE CITY already has taken initial steps toward constructing a new disposal plant. However, land considered as first choice for a building site is entailed in a will. Indications are that this will require considerable time in obtaining the property through condemnation procedure.

The land considered feasible is part of the Marfield tract southwest of Circleville. Initial efforts to acquire the land were slowed last month when Council tabled a resolution that would declare the City's intention of obtaining the property.

The reason given for tabling the measure was to allow the solons, especially new members, time to study the matter. Despite the nearing permit deadline, Council was not receptive to acting on the resolution of intention last night.

Ervin Leist, utilities manager, said the control board is aware the city is making efforts toward improvements, but noted that an application for a permit renewal should be initiated. He said there was no direct indication at this time of a change in site for a new plant.

Solon Joe Bell's service committee was directed to investigate a sanitary sewer problem in the Long St. area. The action followed a report by Health Officer John Himrod that the lack of line there is causing deepening sanitation difficulties.

Installation of a line through the street was discussed last year, but eventually was dropped due to the cost factor that would be borne by property owners involved. Bell was advised to report on his findings at the next Council session.

Ohio Solon Opposes Anti-Poverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, was one of several Republicans voicing opposition Tuesday to the administration's anti-poverty bill.

Ayres, a member of the House Education and Labor subcommittee, said because of the large numbers of Negroes mired in poverty and the limited number of persons who could be helped by the Job Corps section of the bill, "There won't be any white people in it."
